Willimantic National bank is the oldest bank in Windham county. It was organized in 1822, then being located in Windham Center. In 1846 it was reorganized and in March 1870 was moved to Willimantic and located in one part of the Willimantic Savings Institute building on Main street. In 1895 the bank purchased the United Bank building (the present structure) and moved there January 1, 1896. The first president of the bank was John H. Smith, who served from 1822 to 1850. He was succeeded by Henry S. Watcott, 1850 to 1872. The next president was Thomas Hamond, 1872 to 1886. Guilford Smith, the present incumbent, then took office and has served 35 years. The present officers of the bank are Guilford Smith, president; H. Clinton Lathrop, vice president; Edgar E. Bass, cashier; Herbert D. Polard and Archibald Buchanan, assistant cashiers. The board of directors comprises Guilford Smith, William A. King, George E. Stiles, William D. Grant, H. Clinton Lathrop, George M. Harrington, Louis S. Kingsbury, George P. Taylor and James P. As noted there have been but four presidents of the bank since its organization, and the cashiers also numbered four. Joel M. White was the first cashier, holding office for eight years, 1823 to 1830. He was succeeded by Samuel Hingham who served 46 years, 1830 to March 24, 1876. H. Clinton Lathrop succeeded him and on January 13, 1890, Edgar A. Bass was elected cashier. Willimantic National bank ranks third in the state in institutions of its kind in regard to surplus and profit which amounts to $225,000. The bank was capitalized for $100,000.

Prominent Veterinary of Dover Suffered Tortures for Twelve Years

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" and "Sootha Salva" Finally Brought Relief

Dover, N. H.

"In 1906, I began to be troubled with Eczema. It started on my face and gradually spread. The second summer, I was so badly afflicted I had to lay off work. I would keep my hands tied up at night to prevent digging into my flesh while asleep. I spent hundreds of dollars in seeking relief. I would go for several months without trouble and then the Eczema would break out again and I would be in for a stage of suffering. My hands, especially across the knuckles, would be so puffed and swollen I could not do any obstetrical work or operations.

It was about three months ago I chanced to read an ad. of 'Fruit-a-tives' about a person being cured of Weeping Eczema by using this remedy and 'Sootha Salva'. I bought both and in about a week, noticed an improvement. I have now used two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' and one of 'Sootha Salva' and am entirely free of Eczema. My flesh is clear and smooth and I am that gratified with the result that I cannot proclaim too loudly the merits of these remedies."

E. N. OLZENBAND, D. V. M.

Both remedies are sold at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50. At all dealers or sent postpaid by FRUIT-A-TIVES Limited, ODGENSBURG, N. Y.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

AT THE STRAND SUNDAY.

There is an impressive society background to The Third Woman, the Robert Coile Superior picture, which will be shown at the Strand theatre on Sunday. It is an all-star cast which includes Carlyle Blackwell, Louise Lovely and Gladys Hope. The story has to do with the great mistake which was made by Judson Halliday in not coming to his son the details of his marriage, years before in the west.

The opening of the picture finds the son a young man who has just graduated from an eastern college, and who is a great favorite among the women of New York. Already Mrs. Steele, mother of Eleanor Steele, has made mental notes of the brilliant rating of the elder Halliday, and of the society position and fine personality of the son.

In other words she has gotten ready the net to catch Lake Halliday, the popular and wealthy young man.

A great party is given at which it is the plan of Judson Halliday to announce the engagement of his son to Eleanor Steele, the society girl. While the evening is in progress and the great Halliday mansion is filled with a gay company, a rain descends. With it comes fear, horror, a sinister person who knows the past of the elder Halliday. He gains entrance at a side door, and asks for the head of the house.

Then he repeats, in such a loud voice that the son may hear, the secret which the father always has withheld. In another moment the son appears to beg his father to disclose the secret, but the father tells him to go to bed. The father tells him to go to bed. The father tells him to go to bed.
